(1) Midlands / Birmingham South

(1) North UK

Assistant (Trainee) Contract Manager(s) throughout the UK

As a specialist and market leader in the offsite pod manufacture, with strong and continuous planned growth potential throughout the UK and Europe over the coming years, leading to this opportunity to grow with the business.

In order therefore to capitalise on our strong and continuous planned growth in the current market place, we are looking to recruit experienced Contracts Managers to supplement the current team.

A good technical understanding of offsite fabrication, linked to differing construction and building services (M&E) techniques would be desirable, although training will be provided to the appropriate individual(s).

These positions although mainly working from home, will involve extensive travel throughout the UK with possible European trips depending on geographical assignment.
